Sorry about the interruption (#p2619)

by Digital Larry » Thu Jan 07, 2016 1:24 pm

Looks like someone hacked my site and installed a bunch of links for phishing. I don't think it touched my phpBB or WordPress files. Very strange. Anyway I removed all the stuff that had been uploaded in the past few days and am hoping for the best for now.

Wow, had a shutdown due to bandwidth over run this morning! Not sure what's going on. Working with service provider to monitor it

I noticed that some notifications from the forum get flagged by gmail as spam and at my work (yes, where I do most of my forum reading ...) our proxy completely blocks your site now .. these kind of hackers are a nuisance ...

I was contacted by the US Department of the Interior, some guy working on investigating a large scale phishing attack originating in Nigeria. Crazy stuff! Need to see if I can find some admin logs hinting at where they logged in from. 🙄
